

Begbies Traynor

26 July 2010

Andy Clay Joins Begbies Traynor

Begbies Traynor, the leading business rescue, recovery and restructuring specialist, has appointed Andy Clay as director at its York office.

Andy has more than 22 years' experience with PKF in Leeds and joins from a smaller firm where he worked as an appointment taker. His specialist areas include corporate insolvency and trading insolvencies, particularly within the printing, haulage and fleet management sectors. He obtained his MABRP and JIEB qualifications in 2000.

"With his extensive experience in all types of corporate and personal insolvency matters as well as trading insolvencies, investigations and business reviews, Andy will be a valuable addition to our growing team in York," comments David Horner, partner at Begbies Traynor. "Many businesses in the region are still facing difficult trading conditions and consequently we are continuing to build our team here."

Andy is part of Begbies Traynor's restructuring team based at its Clifton Moor offices in York.