

Clarion

02 June 2010

Clarion Expands Debt Recovery Team

Leeds legal firm Clarion has appointed Daniel Carlton as manager in its growing debt recovery team.

Daniel has more than 20 years' experience advising and developing debt collection and credit control services for a variety of clients from sole traders to PLCs. Over the last 10 years, he has specialised in advising the leisure industry and has worked with some of the major pub groups developing specialist debt recovery systems for the commercial landlord. He has also worked closely with a number of road hauliers, building contractors and retailers to maximise recoveries and increase cash flows.

"Tough economic conditions have meant that our debt recovery services, backed by a nationally renowned dispute resolution team, have been much in demand to help maximise money owed. Daniel's appointment will further strengthen the team enabling us to act as trusted advisers to our clients in all areas of their business," commented Simon Young, partner in dispute litigation at Clarion.

Appeal PR
Tel: 01423 569 999

media relations and profile

Daniel commented, "The role at Clarion presented an opportunity to join a growing legal firm with an excellent reputation which is continuing to expand despite the recession. I believe its success is due to its focussed, forward thinking approach to business and I am pleased to be part of this ambitious team."

Clarion's debt recovery team focuses exclusively on debt recovery acting for commercial and consumer organisations as well as local authorities throughout the UK. Utilising the latest bespoke workflow case management software system, they are able to manage, track and report on the progress of bulk instructions quickly and efficiently.

- Ends -

Photography:

L to R: Clarion's debt recovery managers Andrew Howard and Daniel Carlton